This week at Suckley School

We have thoroughly enjoyed celebrating all things Harvest this week. We all feel like apple experts after our trip to Stocks Farm and professional chefs following our Great Suckley School Bake Off. Who knew our teachers could be so competitive! Maggs Day Centre came to collect all of the wonderful donations from our Suckley families. A huge thank you for your amazing generosity. It was a brilliant example of our Suckley values in action, spreading kindness and respect for others within our wider community. There were so many donations that Erin's car was full!

This week we also became...Tag Rugby Tournament Champions!
Our tag rugby team competed against The Downs, Ashperton, Eastnor, Lugwardine and Colwall, producing some brilliant rugby throughout the tournament. Suckley finished in the top three alongside Colwall and The Downs before going on to win the whole tournament!

We could not be prouder of our team. They were not only fantastic rugby players, but also demonstrated resilience, determination, kindness and respect throughout the day too. A huge thank you must also go to our amazing parent cheerleaders for all their encouragement and support from the sidelines. It really did make a difference! Well done, Team Suckley. Tournament champions and an absolute credit to our school!
💙🏉🏆

With kind regards,
Helen Field

An Audience with Corinne and her Cello

At Suckley Church

Wednesday 4th November 3.30 to 4.30

Corinne is passionate about bringing music to people. She loves to improvise for her audience, playing favourites and requests as well as creating sound 'portraits'. Come and enjoy a fun and creative hour with her.

Corinne fell in love with the cello when her Mum took her to a concert at the age of three. She began lessons aged 5 and went on to train at the Royal Academy of Music. Corinne has studied with leading musicians and has gone on to give many recitals. She has been a member of the Philharmonia Orchestra and the City of Birmingham Symphony Orchestra and is now Co-Principal Cellist of the English Symphony/String Orchestra and coaches their Youth Orchestras.
