'HAPPY, ASPIRATIONAL AND READY FOR LIFE'

This week at Suckley School

Happy Friday,

Has Spring returned after the gale-force winds and rain yesterday—we really hope so! We can't wait to use the field and wild area again.

We were delighted to welcome seven of our governors into school yesterday. They observed the children arriving and then settling quickly into their individual morning activities. They were so impressed with the calm, meaningful start to the day.

They then joined me in the church for a presentation about the exciting changes we are planning for playtimes and lunchtimes. We shared the research behind our ideas and explained how we hope to raise the necessary funds to bring them to life. Our GoFundMe page is now on all Social Media platforms. If you can, please consider making a donation so we can turn our plans into reality!

The governors then spent time watching the children at play, followed by an opportunity to look through some of our class "Big Books." A small group of children proudly took their books to the church to share their learning, and the governors were completely absorbed—we could hardly tear them away!

Finally, we also welcomed a very special visitor into school: a tiny 2-day-old lamb in need of some nurturing after being abandoned. This sparked some incredibly thoughtful and surprisingly advanced conversations between the children—more like Key Stage 3 than primary level! It was a good job Shepherd Seth was on stand-by to help with the answers. We decided she should be named Dora the Explorer, after her enthusiastic attempts to explore multiple classrooms. It's really moments like these that remind me how wonderfully eclectic and special life at Suckley School is!

I wish you all a happy and healthy weekend.

With kind regards,

Helen Field

Photos of The Week

To support the children's vocabulary and in order for them to keep abreast of current affairs, both locally and nationally, we have a "Let's Talk About It" assembly every Monday. Each week we have different pictures and questions to initiate conversations with, and between, the children. We would like to continue this 'talking' theme by asking you to discuss activities the children have done in school each week. Here are some photos to help prompt the conversations:
