

This week at Suckley School

Happy Friday,

Wow! What a week – and what a World Book Day!

Yesterday was one to remember. The children (and the staff!) looked absolutely fantastic in their costumes, and it was wonderful to see so many different characters coming to life and interacting across the school.

We began the day with a parade around the playground, giving everyone the chance to admire the incredible array of characters that had arrived through the gates that morning.

The morning was then spent in our house groups, with children of all ages working together on a range of book-themed activities. From illustrating scenes and playing book-themed charades to crafting ten-word tales, the creativity was certainly flowing. Some groups even created entire stories complete with props, plots, characters, and sets – the imagination on display was truly inspiring.

In the afternoon, we explored visual literacy and how images can convey meaning in different ways to text, before heading out on our big Suckley Book Hunt. Every child discovered a hidden book to take home, which added a sense of excitement and magic to the day. Even lunch joined in the fun, with Black Pepper serving 'Cat in the Hat' chicken wraps and 101 Dalmatians cookies!

It was a fantastic day filled with smiles, creativity and a shared love of reading. Thank you to all of the children, parents, carers and staff who helped make it such a successful and fun-filled celebration.

With kind regards,
Helen Field

Photos of The Week

To support the children's vocabulary and in order for them to keep abreast of current affairs, both locally and nationally, we have a "Let's Talk About It" assembly every Monday. Each week we have different pictures and questions to initiate conversations with, and between, the children. We would like to continue this 'talking' theme by asking you to discuss activities the children have done in school each week. Here are some photos to help prompt the conversations:
