

This week at Suckley School

Happy Friday!

This week seems to have flown by and I can't believe it is Friday already! In Monday's 'Let's Talk About It' assembly we introduced Black History Month. We have started to read the Little People, Big Dreams series of the books, starting with Marcus Rashford, which the children are thoroughly enjoying.

Also this month we will be showing our support of World Mental Health Day on 10th October 2025. We will show our support of this important event by wearing a yellow accessory with our uniform on Friday 10th October to help make the world a little bit brighter.

I am aware traffic and parking has been particularly tricky with the building work that has been going on at the school. However, I must express my concerns over some of the parking that has been happening. Cars should not be parked on the pavements under any circumstances. When this occurs, pedestrians are having to leave the pavement, walk around the cars and onto the road. This poses a significant health and safety concern. Thank you for your understanding.

Please could I also ask that you double-check that ALL of your child's belongings are labelled. We are still finding jumpers, drinks bottles and coats with no labels and when asking the children, nobody is admitting to having lost them or owning the ones on offer!

Finally, we're still after a knowledgeable potato grower for our Harvest Week, please do get in touch if you know of anybody who could help!

With kind regards,
Helen Field

Photos of The Week

To support the children's vocabulary and in order for them to keep abreast of current affairs, both locally and nationally, we have a "Let's Talk About It" assembly every Monday. Each week we have different pictures and questions to initiate conversations with, and between, the children. We would like to continue this 'talking' theme by asking you to discuss activities the children have done in school each week. Here are some photos to help prompt the conversations:
